

Angela Dunn

2022 – Present

Angela Dunn was elected as a school trustee in 2022. She is a mother of three children attending schools in the St. James-Assiniboia School Division.

Following the completion of her Bachelor of Arts degree, Angela has spent 12 years working with at-risk children, youth and families.

Her initial experience working as an Educational Assistant led her to a position at the North End Family Centre as a Program Coordinator for the Empowering Families Program. She then went on to manage residential treatment homes for high-risk offenders at Forensic Psychology Services.

Most recently, she works as a Residential Treatment Counsellor with high-risk youth in the child welfare system.

These experiences have given Angela a unique perspective and passion for improving our social systems, especially schools. Schools are an integral part of raising up strong, contributing members of society and Angela is committed to working with the community to ensure children and youth can reach their potential.
