

HUSKY STUDENT OF THE MONTH

Computer Science

Elle Dunsford, Emily Kornelson and Ayana Lee

These students are taking my grade 10 introductory Computer Science course, without ever taken a Computer Science course before, and are all excelling. They all sit in the same vicinity supporting each other and working hard. They have excellent attitudes and humor that makes teaching them a joy. I was torn as to whom to pick, so I decided they all deserve students of the month. They are all working ahead in the course, asking questions, going back and improving their work, and are receptive to feedback. I hope they will continue to excel. Great job girls!
