School sports are off to the races! The varsity boys volleyball team finished in 2nd place in what may have been the worst tournament format ever created. The junior varsity boys are shaping up to be better than last year with a new coach who might lead the team to at least a single win after last year's dry season. Although tryouts just finished for the hockey team, there will be no replacing Cam Brakel. New recruits have some big shoes to fill. And there's also girls sports teams. Thanks for reading.

Just kidding, both of the girls volleyball teams had great starts to their seasons, and although Mr. Heibert isn't coaching girls hockey this year they'll still be a strong team too. On the upside, with Heibs out of the picture, there may be a decrease in cases of hearing loss among the team. Ultimate is getting going as well, they'll likely have luck at the Hold Back the Snow tournament once they get through tryouts and a few games. Snow might actually be held back indefinitely considering that nobody acknowledges the existence of climate change. That's all for this month, if I missed anything important feel free to leave me a complaint at the following website: <https://m.wikihow.com/Get-a-Life>

Student Council

Student Council has started off with an ABSOLUTE BANG. The energy in our Monday meetings is PAL-PABLE. We are always thinking of ways which we can make our school a more fun place (boring classes are outside of our jurisdiction). We always appreciate your suggestions and in the upcoming months we will be relying more heavily on social media for decision making, so follow @WWC.2020 on instagram so you can have your say. If you want more of a say in what goes on in the school, come and JOIN Student Council, we now have members from all grades who are all very welcoming!

Arts

Coming back from a successful last year, with many exciting things on the horizon, we can't wait to see what's in store! Many programs are preparing for a performance at the Remembrance Day ceremony, including chamber choir, creative music production, IB drama and dance advanced. Dance general will be performing at the pep rally, vocal jazz and chamber choir will be performing at choral fest in November. The cast and crew of the senior musical theatre class will be putting on Little Shop of Horrors December 5-7! Here at Westwood we have lots to be proud of, and this year we will continue our legacy of excellence!
